Fifth Meeting of the Regional Information Exchange Process on Arms Export Controls

The fifth meeting of the Regional Information Exchange Process on Arms Export Controls, organized by SEESAC, took place on 23 June 2011 in Becici, Montenegro and was attended by the delegations of Albania, Bosnia and Herzegovina (BiH), Croatia, the former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia, Montenegro and Serbia.

The meeting began with the presentation given by the BiH delegation, informing the participants about the work of BiH as a non-permanent member of the UN Security Council. The next issue discussed was the development of a regional database of registered arms brokers. Delegations agreed to revise and provide the updated lists of registered brokers to SEESAC. BiH will conduct an industry outreach in the fall of 2011 where it will seek an agreement by the industry to share information for the regional database.

The delegations also discussed the improvement of the regional report on arms exports by including information on 1) brokering licenses granted and refused by each country; as well as 2) the implementing legislation or administrative rules for Common Position 2003/468/CFSP and Common Position 2008/944/CFSP. It was noted that it would be useful if the regional report includes the criteria based on which licenses were refused. The Serbian delegation expressed its view that at the moment the Republic of Serbia is not able to report on the granted and refused brokering licenses for the reason that the Republic of Serbia does not issue specific licenses for brokering. The Serbian delegation suggested not to include such information into the regional report yet.

Further the Delegations discussed exports to specific destinations; the available tools for post-export control; and options for establishing Internal Compliance Programs (ICP).

For the benefit of full transparency, the delegations agreed to present the second regional report on arms exports at a joint press conference during the next meeting. The next Regional Arms Exports Information Exchange meeting was tentatively scheduled for 9-10 November 2011 and is to be held in Belgrade.

The activity is supported by the Norwegian Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

What is Cookie?

A cookie is a small piece of data sent from a website and stored in a user's web browser while a user is browsing a website. When the user browses the same website in the future, the data stored in the cookie can be retrieved by the website to notify the website of the user's previous activity

How do we use cookies?

A visit to a this page could generate the following types of cookie.

Strictly necessary cookies

These cookies are essential in order to enable you to move around the website and use its features, such as accessing secure areas of the website. Without these cookies services you have asked for, like shopping baskets or e-billing, cannot be provided.

2. Performance cookies

These cookies collect information about how visitors use a website, for instance which pages visitors go to most often, and if they get error messages from web pages. These cookies don't collect information that identifies a visitor. All information these cookies collect is aggregated and therefore anonymous. It is only used to improve how a website works.

3. Functionality cookies

These cookies allow the website to remember choices you make (such as your user name, language or the region you are in) and provide enhanced, more personal features. For instance, a website may be able to provide you with local weather reports or traffic news by storing in a cookie the region in which you are currently located. These cookies can also be used to remember changes you have made to text size, fonts and other parts of web pages that you can customise. They may also be used to provide services you have asked for such as watching a video or commenting on a blog. The information these cookies collect may be anonymised and they cannot track your browsing activity on other websites.

4. Targeting and advertising cookies

These cookies are used to deliver adverts more relevant to you and your interests. They are also used to limit the number of times you see an advertisement as well as help measure the effectiveness of the advertising campaign. They are usually placed by advertising networks with the website operator's permission. They remember that you have visited a website and this information is shared with other organisations such as advertisers. Quite often targeting or advertising cookies will be linked to site functionality provided by the other organisation.
